the last point is relevant to the question of how mortality affects fertility

John Lukamata of three children whom his soldiers say were killed by a government helicopter attack and buried under the mound.